

A modular approach

A range of short, hands-on workshops, run at different levels to suit the needs of the participants.

Module

Standard level

Advanced level

Interactive materials

Using interactive digital materials in the language classroom, including web based materials, language CD-ROMs / DVD-ROMs

Using authoring tools, including Hot Potatoes / Syllabus and course creation

Podcasting

Using podcasts in language teaching

Creating and editing podcasts using Audacity

Interactive whiteboards

Using IWBs in the classroom: including voting tools / tips and tricks

Creating materials for interactive whiteboards

Virtual Learning environments

Using VLEs to support face-to-face teaching

Creating and uploading materials for VLEs / advanced features of Moodle

Blogs and wikis

Using blogs and wikis in language teaching

Train the trainers

This course is for teacher trainers and Director of Studies whose role is to train language teachers in using technology. Course includes: issues / resistance / terminology / practical ideas.

Modular approach

Our modular approach allows clients to decide which areas they wish to focus on.

All participants receive a PSA Certificate of attendance.

Contact us

For further information, contact us: info@psa.eu.com

Visit our website: www.psa.eu.com

About us

PSA is an educational consultancy and training organisation for language teachers. PSA runs courses worldwide for teachers of English as a Foreign Language, teacher trainers and academic managers on how to successfully integrate educational technology into their language courses.